The government is trying to push through an anti-Internet set of electronic surveillance laws that will invade your privacy and cost you money.

These bills will force every big Internet provider to monitor, record and surrender our personal information to "authorities" without a warrant.

If these bills pass a range of "authorities" will have the ability to invade the private lives of law-abiding Canadians and our families using wired Internet and mobile devices, and the cost of those millions of dollars of spying technology will be passed down to YOU.

If enough of us speak out now the Government will have no choice but to stop this mandatory online spying scheme. Sign the Stop Online Spying petition now:
